I.H.S. Is Home

On the corner of Manchester and Grevillea is a very special world, Ingleworld. In this world are very special things happening every day that happen no place else in the world. This very special world is our home for seven hours out of every day. These special happenings in these seven hours make this a very special home. Nowhere else in the world has such a unique place with things done in such a very special way. This is just not any home with the very ordinary things found anywhere. Our family room and workshop are just a little different from the average home.

This difference that is found in Ingleworld is what we want to show you as you move from room to room of our home. Please take special notice as you share time and experiences with us and please notice what makes us just a little special.

Ingleworld Is Home

Entry Hall

p. 2

Entrance to Ingleworld, the IHS home begins here. Enter carefully and join our life.

Family Stars

p. 16

Every family produces their talented offspring. This year there were approximately 256 seniors in this category.

Family Room

p. 33

In this room were all the important events. Celebrity visitors met here also. In addition, members of their family celebrated here too.

Jock Shop

p. 60

Green and white jackets were made here and worn by members of "Big I", athletic organization. These family members worked and labored all year long.

Hobbies

p. 111

Leisure time activities are a part of every home, and most participate in the hobby of hobbies of their choice.

Our Floor Plan

Famous Relatives

p. 125

The relatives work hard to make the IHS home a livable place. They issued rules, degrees, and events for all the rest to enjoy and profit from.

Younger Brothers And Sisters

p. 131

These younger siblings who were not yet the family stars, had their place too. They knew someday they would be a senior.

Parents

p. 157

Our dear parents took very good care of us. Their teachings were essential to the future and we appreciate what they did for us.

Memories

p. 169

In our scrapbooks we looked back on some of the many wonderful things that took place.

Check Book

p. 173

Allowance, contributions from our wonderful sponsors, were due and they came through to make this book possible.

MRS. MARGARET LARKIN HONORED

INGLE- WORLD DEDICATES

The 1978 Green and White was proudly dedicated to very special person who served the IHS campus for twenty-two years. During this time she became very fond of the people, especially the students she worked with and came to know.

She will be missed, but as her husband Walter Larkin, who assisted her for fifteen years said, "All good things must come to an end."

In addition, to ticket selling, keeping track of approximately one-hundred and ten accounts, and taking home work nightly, Mrs. Larkin likes to play bridge and golf, and paint china. She has a son who is a machine contractor and a daughter who is a beautician.

For this reason and for the reason that she helped to make IHS a very special place, the annual staff wish her and husband the best of luck in the future, and dedicates the 1978 Ingleworld to Mrs. Larkin.

Mrs. Larkin was the smiling face seen on campus early in the morning.

The student store was always well stocked; there was everything from felt tips to Kleenex

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

"To reserve time so that one may reflect upon the plight of the educational process is a must for all persons connected with the education of young people. As a procedure, this means some times pacing the hallowed ground and brainstroming so that new ideas and methodology surface. 'Growth through education' must be foremost in the minds of all peoples involved in the education of our youth."

Louis C. Thomas

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

... 'Specially in the morning with a face only a mother could love? Do you really know what we look like when we get here? Do you think the sand is already out of our eyes? Do you think we are ready to go? Just look! We have rollers in our hair, empty stomachs, absolutely nothing to say, and a growl for everyone. So---with the extra time in the morning, we buy our goodies in Sentinel Inn and get ready to spend our day.

INGLE— WORLD'S FANTASTIC SENIORS DO IT AGAIN!

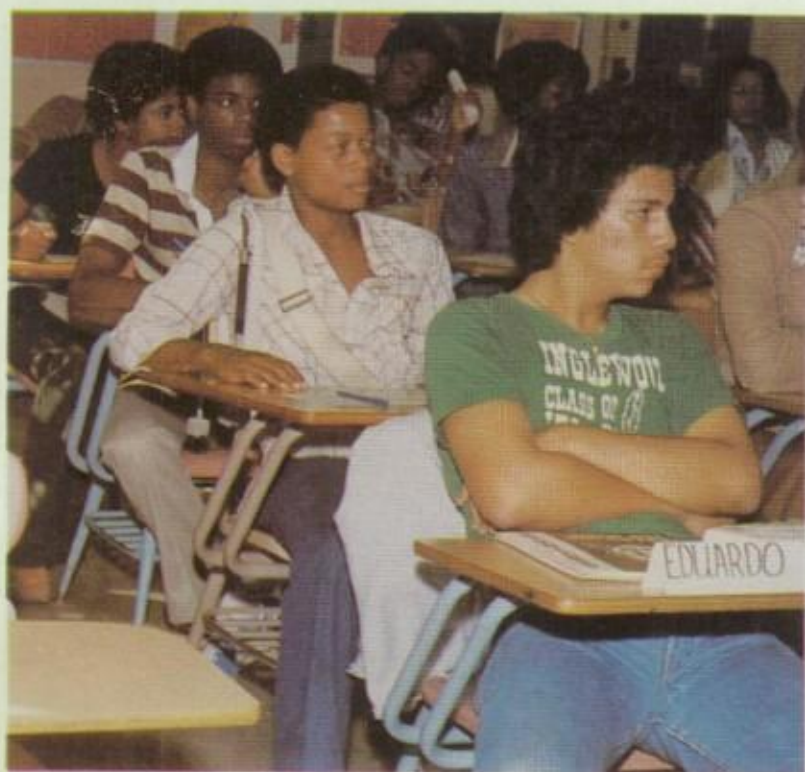

Once again the Family Stars traditionally gather in their Famous meeting place to preserve the Famous tradition. Part of this tradition is being excused for twenty minutes of class time.

HOME IS WHERE THE WORK IS

Our work is not just in one place. We have rooms in our home set aside not only for work, but for learning. A walk around campus reveals many ambitious students demonstrating the true IHS spirit. A diversity of subjects and a diversity of students are also part of this spirit. This is our world; welcome to it.

POT LUCK

Pot Luck, our nutrition period, was a student initiated program that started in the second semester of the last school year. Keeping the campus clean was one of the main objectives, but it was successful and will continue. It has added somewhat to the maturation of our home.

Going Going Gone!

After students have struggled through another boring day of math, suffered through science, nearly died in history, and almost collapsed from overexhaustion in physical education, they sit in their 7th period class in anticipation. Slowly gathering books and papers, the final bell rings, and it is time to go home.

Family Stars Play It Again!

The family stars, otherwise known as the seniors of Ingleworld, certainly left their mark in the family album. Whatever they did, did not go unnoticed. In an effort for all of these happenings not to be lost, some of their special doings have been recorded in their special place.

The lists on this page tell of some of the more important things in their lives— just ask them! Since when is what we have learned in the classroom more important than how we look or talk? Or for that matter shall the music of the day fade out in the background never to be brought to mind again?

Mr. John Keers, a faculty favorite with the seniors, appears on this page. He too was part of that fabulous senior year that was never forgotten.

1977-78 Homecoming Court

This year's 1977 Queen, Donna Baynes, was involved in many school activities, such as, editor of the school newspaper, co-captain of the Song Squad and Commissioner of Human Relations in Student Council.

The King, Kenny Hayes, was also very active at Inglewood High. Kenny was an outstanding running back on the Varsity Football Team. As vice president of Student Council, Kenny had a big responsibility.

"Send In The Clowns" . . .

was this year's homecoming theme selected by Student Council from over 70 suggestions. Elections were unique this year as "kings and princes" were elected along with the traditional court by the student body.

The Court and the festive theme which symbolized Sentinel Spirit were announced in two separate rallies. The first, on Nov. 4, introduced the King and Queen, in addition, to the Princesses and Princes. Each grade level elected their own royalty, but did not know the results until the rally.

The theme rally, on Nov. 9, featured balloons floating everywhere. The highlight was a clown contest. Students attended class in this attire.

The big evening was Nov. 10 when the "big game" was played and the court was crowned. Unfortunately, the big game did not go in a winning direction for the Sents, and Torrance collected a win.

CROWNING OF THE ROYAL COURT

The most memorable event in the family album was the crowning of the court. The crowning took place at Sentinel Field, on Nov. 10, 1977. As the crowd cheered, the procession began with the Homecoming Court being chauffeured around the field in convertible Mercedes and Cadillacs.

As the princes and princesses were announced, the crowd waited anxiously for His and Her Majesty to appear. Finally the moment came. The King and Queen were announced and crowned as cameras snapped and light bulbs flashed.

AND THEY CLOWNED AROUND

The big event

before the homecoming game was the theme rally on Nov. 3. "Send in the clowns" we did with IHS students attending classes all day in their "outfits." Balloons were sold on campus and filled the air at the rally. The rally featured a "clown contest" for the best costume.

The dance was held the day after the game at the Pacifica Hotel in Culver City on Nov. 10.

Senior Julian Moran and Senior Juliet Ingram spread the "clown" Spirit!

SCOTT MERITS

This year our world was blessed with the honor of having a National Merit Achievement-Finalist, Darin Scott. His future plans include attendance at Stanford, Notre Dame, or The University of Southern California to pursue a career in chemical engineering.

Scott enjoys basketball, football, comic book collecting, and girls? When asked what influenced him most at Inglewood, he answered "The close relationship I've had with my teachers." His favorite was Ms. Nakaya because of their close relationship and the personal interest she took in him. Among his many awards was the Optimist award. He was also elected to California Boys state.

When asked for a final word for incoming freshman he said, "Take the hardest classes as possible and look out for the Seniors on Senior Square." After his graduation from Inglewood, his five sisters will continue the family tradition.

Scott also won the corporate scholarship of $1500, renewable each year.

"I've always enjoyed life at Inglewood."

"The atmosphere is very encouraging."

"I will never forget the motivation I received at Inglewood High."

RT. Craig Murray, Eric Loyd, and Chuckie Mayfield who also received awards for high scores.

Mr. Thomas, IHS principal, welcomed the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

Teachers, parents, students and concerned persons were invited to hear Rev. Jackson explain his educational program.

CONCEIVE BELIEVE ACHIEVE!

Last summer the Reverend Jesse Jackson met with summer school students to discuss Operation Push. This program stresses excellence in education.

Jackson wants the individual student to take an individual responsibility for his own educational success. In addition to positive thinking, the student must become a positive thinker. Also, individual study habits are important. Quiet study each night with the radio, television, and telephone off are necessary to becoming a success in school and for the future. With this motivation, each student will be able to say, "I am Somebody!"

IHS appreciated the time and knowledge he has given to the student body and concerned persons.

BRAND NEW SYSTEM ARRIVES

Report Card Day pick up, which was one of the results of the Reverend Jesse Jackson's Operation PUSH program, was initiated at IHS on Nov. 21.

At 1:30, after a shortened day schedule, parents were asked to come in and pick up their son's or daughter's report card in the principal's office.

Then the parents, if they wished, could talk to individual teachers, in Sentinel Inn. For the next two days parents picked up report cards. A large percentage of parents came to get them. The idea was to build better teacher-parent relationships. The pick up was until 9:30 p.m. in order not to inconvenience working parents.

oppos. pg. lft: Some parents were very surprised to see the grades. top: First parents went to the office to get cards. oppos. pg. rt: Then parents had a chance to meet with individual teachers. op. bot. lft.: Ms. Cummings explained the policies of grading to Mr. & Mrs. Bean. bot. lft: Susie Frankel prepared her mother for the exciting moment. bot. rt.: The calm before the storm.

COUNCIL ADVISES WORLD

Advising the principal on matters pertaining to IHS and its educational program was the primary task of the Principal's Advisory Council which met on the first Monday of each month in the Faculty Cafeteria at 7 p.m. This group consisted of parents, teachers, and students.

Some of their projects included Workshops on Test Preparation chaired by Ms. Opaline Brice, A Project to Develop Pride and Dignity Among Students by Ms. Yvonne Davis, student counseling — Its Effectiveness chaired by Ms. Sadie Lott, Quality of Teaching—Systematic Observation of Classrooms chaired by Ms. Runette Lewis, Monitoring of School Board Meetings chaired by Ms. Dorothy Smith, and Community Relations chaired by Ms. Sadie Lott.

Other projects were: The tutorial program, cafeteria observation, student attendance, and chaperones. In addition, the Council hosted the kick-off ceremony for the Black History Week Celebration. Trophies and certificates were presented for outstanding service and for the essay and poem contest.

During the year their guest speakers were October, Ms. Beverly Young, Chairman, Dept. of Home Economics; November, Ms. Evangeline

Executive Board: Rynette Lewis, Verdie Goff, Phyllis Van de Braak, Fran Turner, and Sadie Lott.

BEING BLACK WITH PRIDE & DIGNITY

was the theme for this year's Black History Week at IHS. Incorporating this theme into the kick-off assembly program was the work of the Principal's Advisory Committee. This was the first year they took this large responsibility. This committee obtained speakers: Ms. Shirley D. Williams, Director of Personnel for the City of Inglewood, and Rev. Gary Bachelor, Interim Director, Los Angeles chapter of PUSH FOR EXCELLENCE. For the first time this committee sponsored the annual writing contest for Black History Week. Not only did they read all of the entries which were either a poem or an essay, they judged them and presented the winners with trophies at the assembly. Mr. Louis Thomas, Principal, also received an award of appreciation. Music was provided by the "Heritage" music group.

TALK TO THE WORLD

Black History Week at IHS brought with it its annual Speaker's Day on February 15. People from the business community were asked to come and speak to the students. The speakers were obtained by individual teachers on the IHS campus and by Project Invest, a group of concerned citizens who work with and help the school.

The speakers told the students of their experiences in the business world and what might be beneficial for their future educational goals. They explained how they happened to enter their particular fields and what their present duties involved in addition to discussing the possibilities for interested students.

Ms. Opaline Brice, a business administration major stressed "preparedness." Preparing for a career early and having many goals rather than just one was what helped her to become successful in life. Being a retired executive secretary, she has worked as an accountant, a legal secretary, and an administrative assistant to the Chief of the Psychology Department at Veterans' Hospital. When she came to Los Angeles, she easily found a job.

SENATOR HOLDEN ADVISES THE WORLD

"Without a knowledge of history a person has no pride," said State Senator Nate Holden as he spoke to IHS students in an assembly on February 23. Holden explained that history has to let people know what their ancestors did to build this great society. Black and white history should be put together so people can learn from the past and not make the same mistakes in the future that have been made in the past.

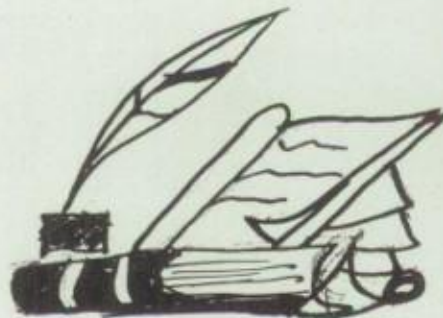

Holden feels that young people today are too far removed from the struggles of the past to be able to relate to and understand them. History is important and should be felt in heart and learned. Doing this will provided for a coming together of all Americans and not separation. Separation, he warned, is not the way to overcome obstacles. Preparation, with education is the way to make doors open for everyone.

Holden himself is an example of his own philosophy of making doors open through preparation with education. He was a high school drop-out and did not finish high school until he was 21, after he had served in the army. He then earned a physics and engineering degree at night since there were no doors open to him during the day. However, in spite of any obstacles that have to be overcome in life, no generation has the right to be hostile.

After Holden addressed the students, they had the opportunity to ask him Individual questions. Holden responded to such questions as to how to be self motivating in life and as to how he felt about the Jarvis Amendment.

Armand Ross, deputy to Holden, accompanied him to IHS. After serving in the Army Ross did volunteer work for one year before being appointed to his present position. Holden told the students that Ross had been a student of Mr. Louis Thomas when he taught at Compton High School.

Senator Holden and Armand Ross talked with students at the end of the assembly.

Wilber Waters asked Senator Holden about self motivation.

DR. KING REMEMBERED

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was born January 12, 1929, in Montgomery, Alabama. He became a famous black Civil Rights' Leader, in the early 1950's. Later in 1968, Dr. King was assassinated.

For the commemoration of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday, IHS held an assembly in his memory, in the George Green Auditorium, Jan. 12, 1978.

Mistress of Ceremonies Cheryle Clapp introduced Marshum Beard who led the Pledge of Allegiance. This was followed by a solo, "To Be Young, Gifted and Black," sung by Lisa Garrett.

Louis Knox, a former IHS student and now a freshman at UCLA, spoke on "What Dr. King Stood for and His Meaning Today." The Drama Department under the direction of Jacques La Certe presented a moving dramatization of "Bad Day in Montgomery." Robert Marshall sang "Abraham, Martin, and John."

Mr. Paul Hill, representing the Agapé Singers, sang "Brother Where Are You?" Members of the Principal's Advisory Committee asked him to sing.

The Program was closed by the Reverend Gary Bachelor, Interim Director, of the Push for Excellence Program who represented the Reverend Jesse Jackson who was unable to attend. He talked to the students and encouraged them in their school and lives.

"To Be Young, Gifted, and Black."

Black ordered to back of bus.

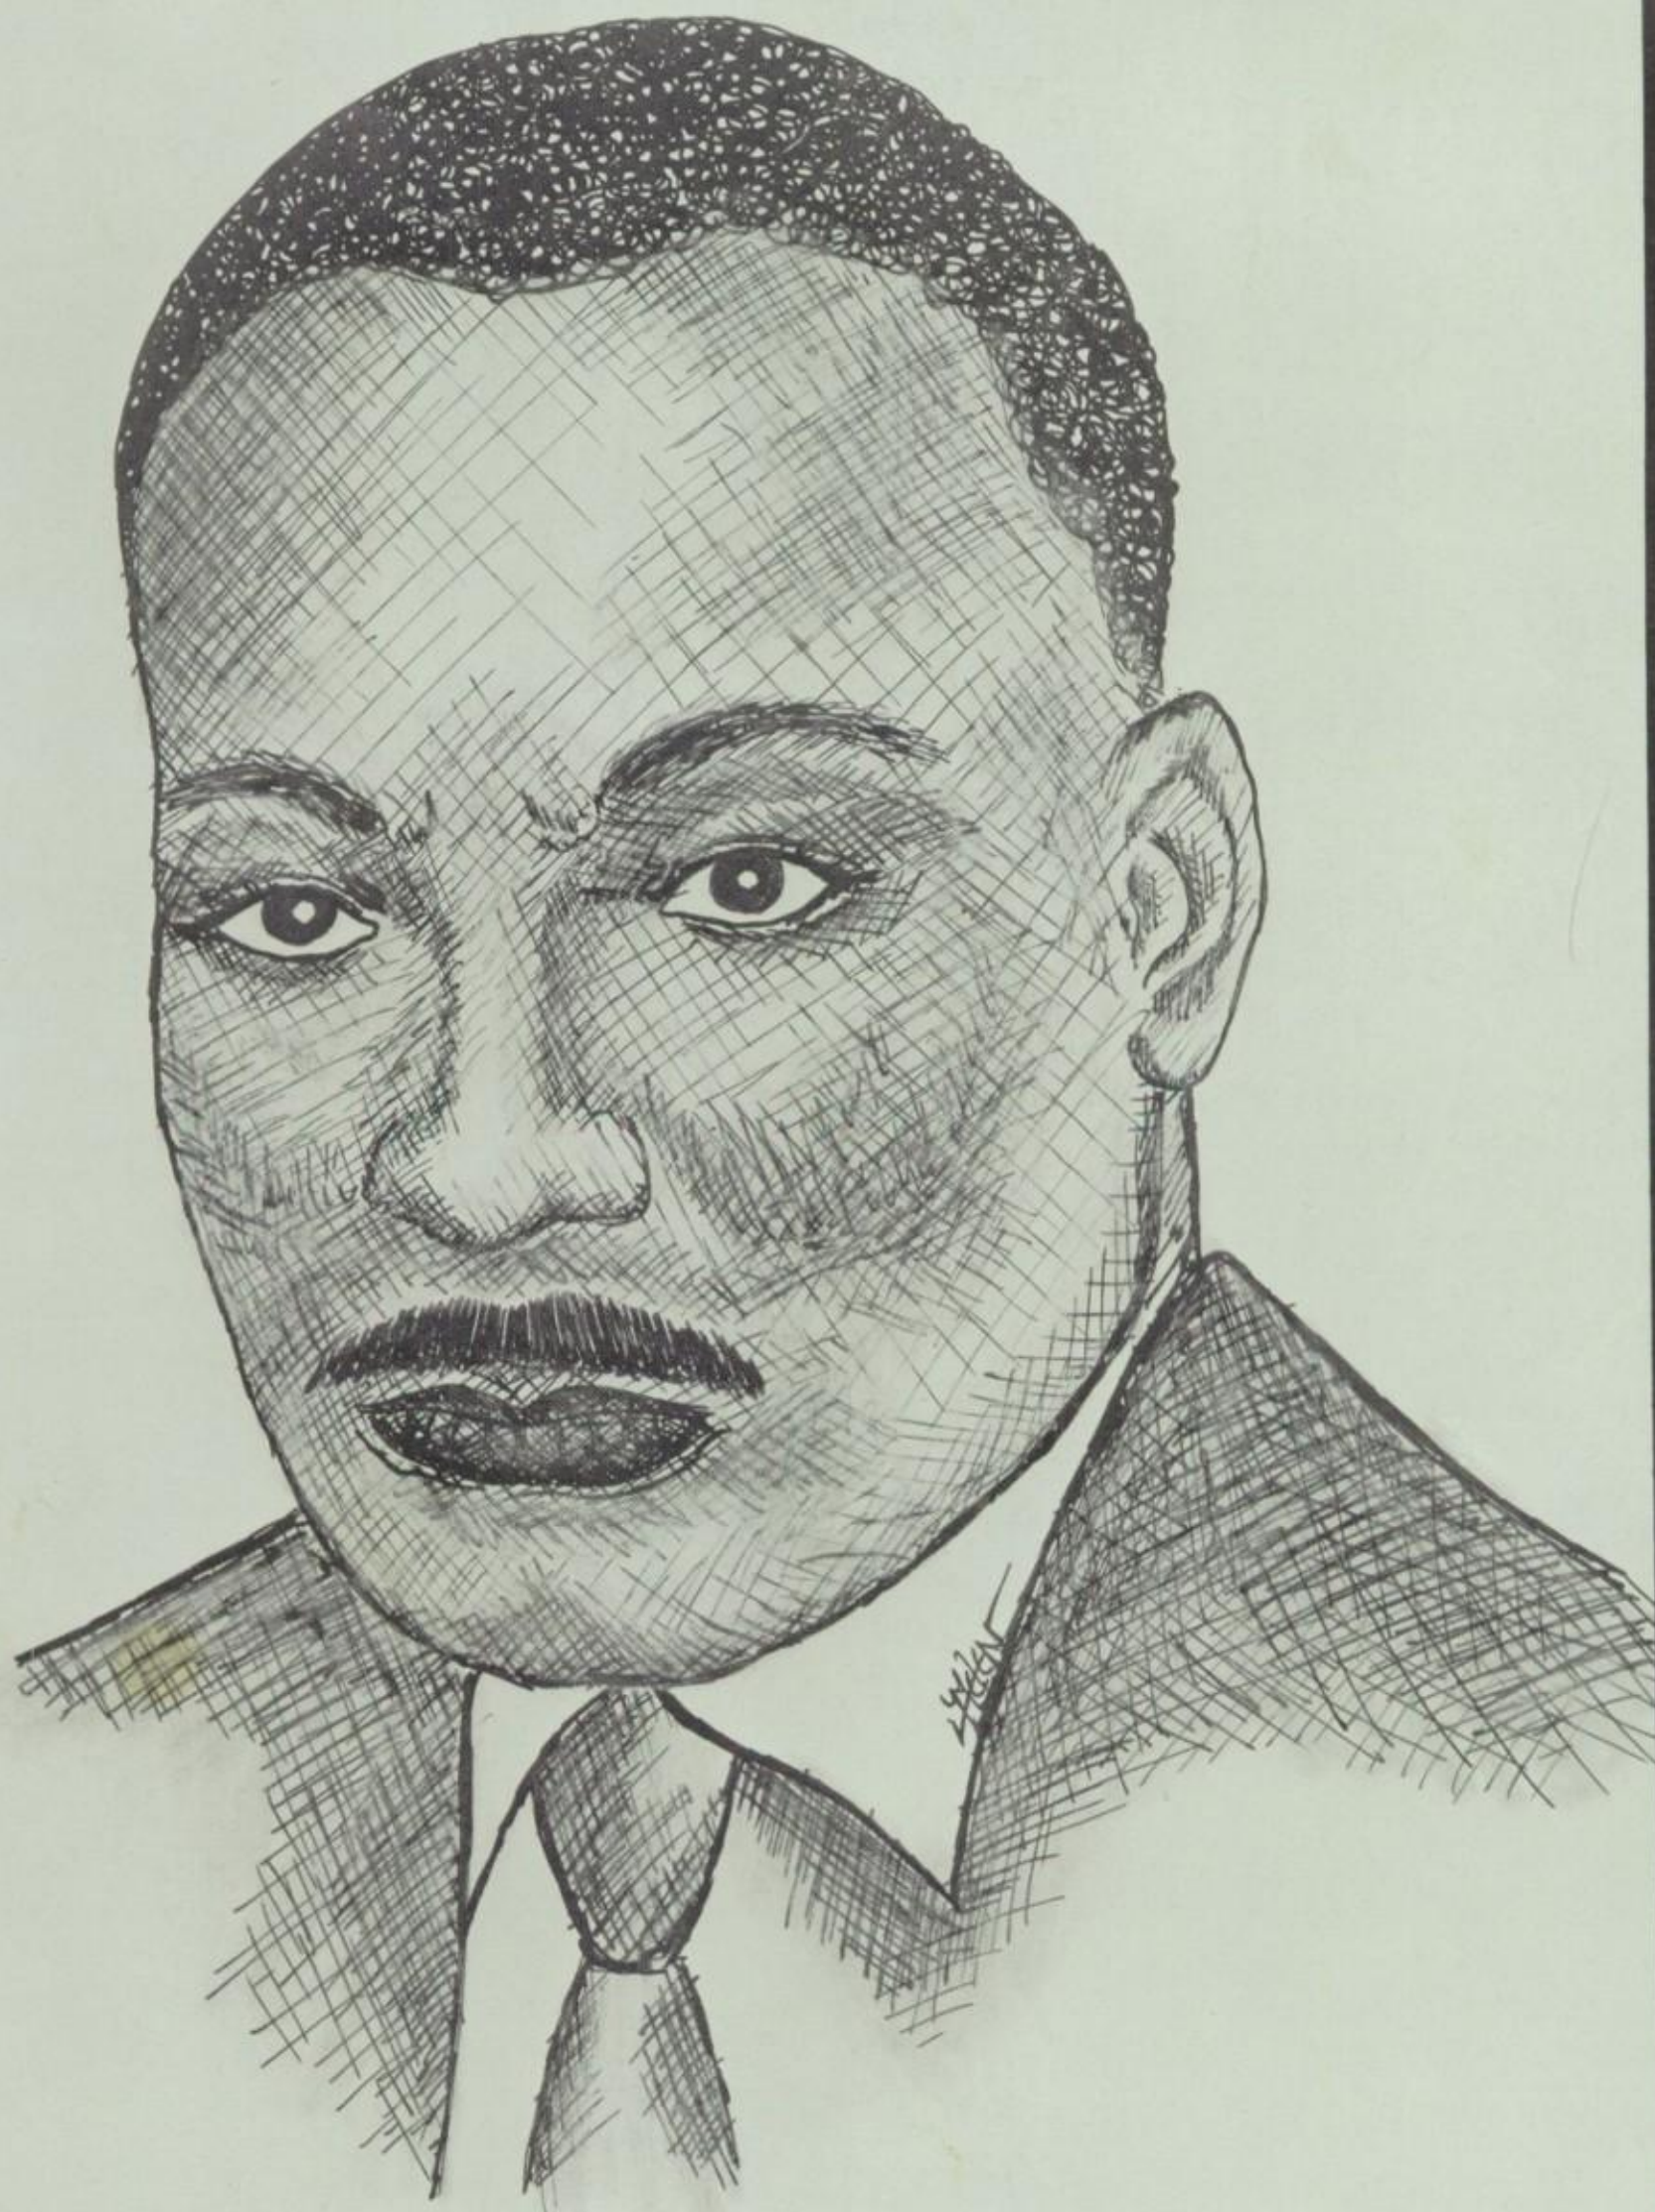

"And he had a dream."

WORLD CAREERS BEGIN HERE

Last January the IHS Career Center opened its doors to the students. Mr. Walter Cruz, Vocational Educational Coordinator, from Central Office was responsible and had a staff to help him at our school: Ms. Ginger Burdette, Career Advisor, Mr. Harold Krislock, Work Experience Coordinator, Ms. China Hill, Career Technician, and Ms. Connie Casey, SCROC representative.

The purpose of the Center was to orient, assist, and motivate the students in finding careers. Students were taught how to use materials which covered 37,000 careers. In addition, to the regular classroom activities speaker programs and field trips were set up.

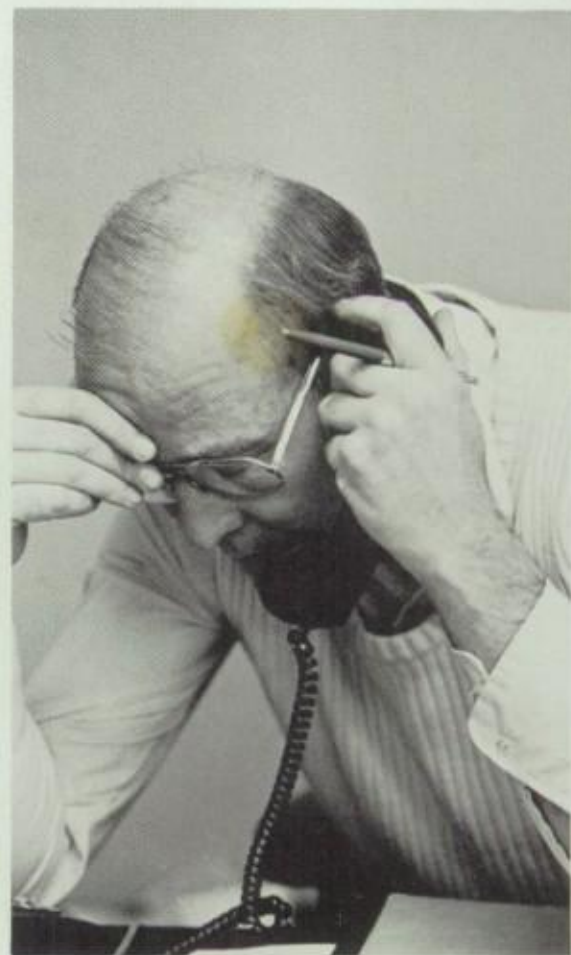

Special projects this past year were the Career Planning Party and Armed Forces Day when representatives from all branches of service were here.

Mr. Walter Cruz and Mr. Robert Hudson observed Ms. Martha Peoples' World History class receive instruction.

Ms. Connie Casey was the SCROC representative.

THE YOUNG EXPERIENCE

The Young Experience, a student operated restaurant, first opened during the 1976-77 school year. The main objective of the class was to give students basic skills in entry-level positions for restaurants. The class consisted of students who prepared food, including simple soups, salads, and sandwiches, and then served them to the faculty members during lunch. Students acted as waiters, waitresses, hostesses, cashiers, bus persons, and even dishwashers. Students may enroll in the class after having taken foods, and with the teacher's permission. This restaurant was opened to faculty members only.

YOUNG WRITERS WIN TROPHY

"I am proud of being Black because this race of people has a very important heritage.

Black stands not only for a color, but also a race of people that have come a long way since slavery; it stands for a race of people that have obtained equal rights, have helped maintain justice, and, for the most part, have tried to keep peace with other races of the world.

Many Blacks, along with other minorities have played important roles in American history; Martin Luther King was a Black American, who before his assassination in 1968, had worked hard and long for equality and equal rights for Black citizens. Phyllis Wheatly, who was born in Africa, taken slave at the age of 8, and given her freedom at the age of 20, was a well-known poet who expressed her pride on paper, as well as verbally.

Blacks of today are also important and are contributing to the well-being of our United States by expressing their talents, showing their loyalty, and competing in a human struggle which will continue for many decades — the will to become the smartest, strongest, and most talented race of people in the world.

Alex Haley is a great Black author who wrote 'Roots,' a national best seller which is about his ancestors during slavery up until now; Jesse Jackson, who is a well-known promoter of good education throughout Black schools, has gained a high amount of respect from high officials — one of which was President Carter; Andrew Young, the United States' Ambassador, has shown everyone that a minority can do an important job well, successfully, and throughly.

There are many other Blacks who have gained respect as useful business men, successful athletes and proud Americans.

We may not be the most respected race of the world, or the most intelligent race of the world; after all, who else besides God can determine this? One thing is for sure — we are Black, we have pride, and we have dignity."

Michael Green

During Black History Week the Principal's Advisory Council sponsored a writing contest which had the same theme as the one used during the week, BEING BLACK WITH PRIDE AND DIGNITY. History classes were encouraged to submit essays and poems.

The sinning entry from each category has been reproduced on these two pages. Both winners read their entries at the opening assembly for Black History Week and received recognition and trophies. Three runners-up in each category received the same. At left is the prize winning essay written by M. L. Green and at right is the prize winning poem written by Robin Kittrell.

Being Black With Pride and Dignity

Black

Jungle boy running free
distant in the woods;
Jungle boy running free
bound in chains;
scared, hungry, confused

Slave... running... running into darkness;
Slave... running... running
not knowing of danger alone, afraid, illiterate

Slave... becoming old knowing the difference between right and wrong;
Slave... becoming old
Still in hope, being educated;
alert, willing, constructive

Nigger... walking... walking
into sectionalism;
Nigger... walking... walking around the Ku Klux Klan;
scared, timid, cautious

Black... walking... walking to be united with the white man;
Black... walking... walking beside Freedom with Pride and with Dignity.

PEOPLE WITH SENIORITY PLUS . . . .

MARK SCOGGINS

Mark during his senior year was captain of the varsity football team. He was not only football captain but also Sr. Class President. As expected of him, he showed great pride in the Senior Class.

Cynthia was captain of the girls' varsity basketball team. She was a very proud player showing great skill.

CYNTHIA HATTER

DAVID JOHNSON

David was captain of a great basketball team, IHS Varsity Basketball team. David along with another captain helped out on the team so that they could be the success that they were.

CHARLES MAYFIELD

Charles B.K.A. Chuckie was A.S.B. President. He too was Captain of the Varsity Football Team. Chuckie proved to many underclassmen that being a senior was lots of fun.

TIRZAH WILBORN

Tirzah was captain of I.H.S. Drill team. She was also editor of the yearbook. She showed her capability of leadership with both groups. She was a determined senior.

KEITH DIXON

Keith was captain of a very successful wrestling team. Keith himself was a C.I.F. participant.

DONNA BAYNES

Donna was editor of I.H.S. El Centinela, which came out once a month. And when it came out she was bound to say, "I am on El Centinela."

BONNIE TANN

Bonnie was captain of the flag squad. She endeavored along with the squad into many activities, games, rallies, etc. The squad worked very hard to put on a good show.

Vernita was captain of a C.I.F. girls' volleyball team. She was not only captain but was also named "Most Valuable Player in the Pioneer League."

VERNITA ANTOINE

LISA GARRETT

Lisa was captain of a very talented varsity yell squad. She showed her enthusiasm by keeping the squad together and in line. She also was A.S.B. Secretary.

GEORGE CHAMBERS

George was captain along with David Johnson of a very successful basketball team. George was proud of his team as well as the school. Thanks to the help of George our team was "Great."

SONIA WITT

Sonia was captain of the very popular Song Squad. The Song squad was known for putting on a very good show. She believed in doing a complete job and putting on a good performance.

JAZZ TROMBONIST TREATS THE WORLD

One of the Highlights of Brotherhood Week was jazz musician Benny Powell's visit to the "World" on Feb. 22. Not only did he play his music, he also took time to explain and teach the students the history of jazz.

Born in New Orleans, Powell started playing trombone when he was 14 and traveling at 16. He feels that the older musicians have influenced him the most. He has also played for Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, and Kennedy. He has recorded with Duke Ellington, and has done Broadway shows including Funny Girl with Barbara Streisand and Golden Boy with Lola Falana and Lou Gossett.

Other members of his group were Gildo Mahones, piano, Eddie Harris, drummer, and Louie B. Spears, bass.

THE WAY THE BALL BOUNCES

"You can't win 'em all!" Even though the Sents only won 3 games in the 1977 season, many good things happened. First of all they beat their cross town rival, Morningside, in a 12-6 victory. This was the 3rd win in a row. Highlights of the game were Jimmy Taylor's 65 yard pass to Keith Dixon for a touchdown, continuous pass rushing by Cameron Halloway and Byron Darby, and a 49 yard sprint for a touchdown by Kenny Hayes. IHS gained possession of the traditional victory bell as a result of this win.

IHS managed to put the highest number of players on the All-League teams: Cameron Halloway, Keith Dixon, Maxel Batiste, Kenneth Elijah, Donnell Williams, William Mitchell, Derek Benton, Michael Morton, and the only player to make first team All-League Offensive and Defensive, Byron Darby. Byron "The Bear" Darby also made All-League for CIF.

Byron Darby

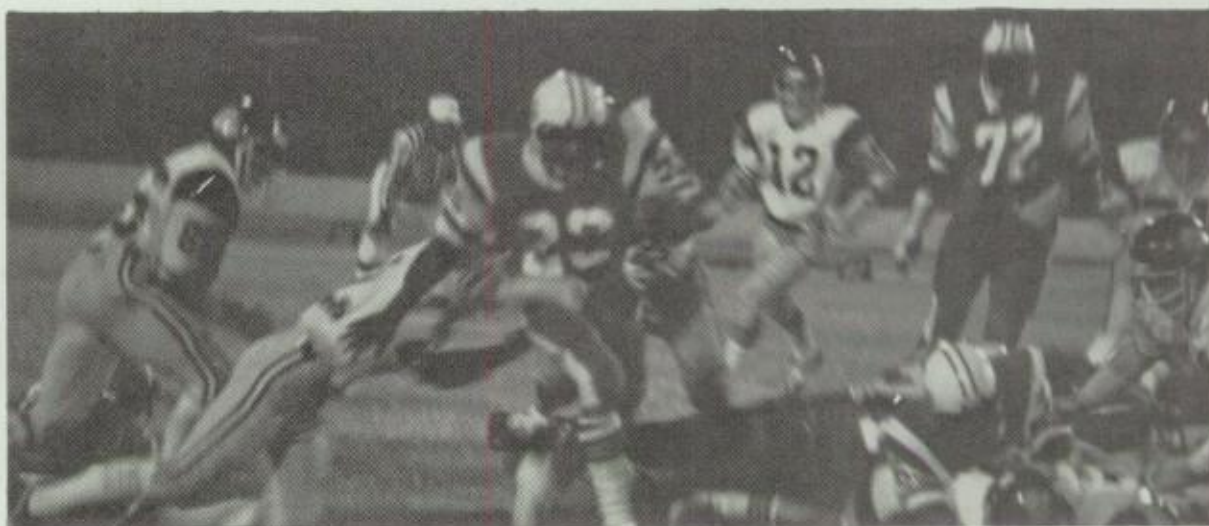

3 I.H.S. seniors were honored by being chosen for High-School ALL-AMERICAN HONORS: Cameron Holloway, Michael Morton, and Byron K. Darby.

Morton, 5'8", 185 lbs., played on the varsity football team for two years. He helped the team by gaining 1800 yards and 25 touchdowns on the ground.

Holloway, 6'5", 190 lbs., also played on the varsity football team for two years. He was wide receiver who had 28 completed passes for 560 yards. He also made 7 touchdowns.

Darby, 6'3", 255 lbs., was on the varsity football team for three years. In his senior year he made 52 unassisted tackles and was in on 148, over 21 sacks and 3 fumble recoveries.

To qualify for ALL-AMERICAN HONORS, they were chosen by the nation's sports writers and coaches which puts these players in the 1 percentile of the nation's high school athletes.

SENTS SENTSATIONALIZE

As predicted early in the season, our Girls' Varsity Volleyball team, coached by Pamela Erbeck, had its most successful season ever. In pre-season games, our girls' defeated the 3A and 4A teams of Redondo, Rolling Hills, Lakewood, and San Marcos. They also placed 3rd in the highly-rated South Pasadena 15-team tournament.

Ranked fourth in the 2A CIF Southern Section, our girls' went into Pioneer League play to win. They obtained that goal with an impressive 10-0 undefeated league season and sole possession of the Pioneer League Championship.

Major reasons for the team's success were 5 returning Varsity players, a great deal of individual talent, and a deep, team unity and desire. In the first round of CIF playoffs they came against 2nd-place team Rio Mesa and defeated them 15-8 and 15-7. The team finally fell to #1 South Pasadena.

YOUNG VARSITY PLAYED WELL!

"I was very pleased with the discipline and maturity and team performance as a whole," said Coach Combs. Even without a 6'10" giant on the court they compensated by using their quickness and agility, and more of a zone defense, instead of a man-on-man.

Even though none of the Varsity played on the team last year, not one of the starters averaged less than 10 points a game.

They had a 18 and 6 season, winning the El Segundo Tournament and runner-up position in their own Invitational Tournament, which was also a great accomplishment. David Johnson was MVP of the El Segundo Tournament and unanimously named First Team All Bay League with George Chambers chosen to the second team.

JV'S JUMP, DRIBBLE, AND DRIVE!

The JV. Basketball Team had a disappointing season record wise with a 5-9 league record. However, the Sents had several outstanding players.

Leadership played an important role with two Co-Captains, Daryl Watkins, and Mickey Taylor, who were both juniors.

Jay Humphries an excellent player, was a standout averaging close to 14 points a game. This moved him to the varsity squad. Daryl Watkins worked the ball well underneath.

Two other promising young sophomores that played an important role this season were Dameron Peyton and Roderick Halloway. They both showed that their remaining 2 years will be full of action.

Coach Gardiner loves coaching and that is what made him so successful.

FRESHMEN ARE COURAGEOUS

This year's freshmen showed us a lot of courage. Many obstacles had to be conquered. First they faced the task of obtaining a coach. One week before the season started they got Coach Rojas to do the job. Lack of time put the team months behind other teams in their league. The freshmen had to practice outside. This caused a big problem because when they had the rain storms, their practices were cut off completely.

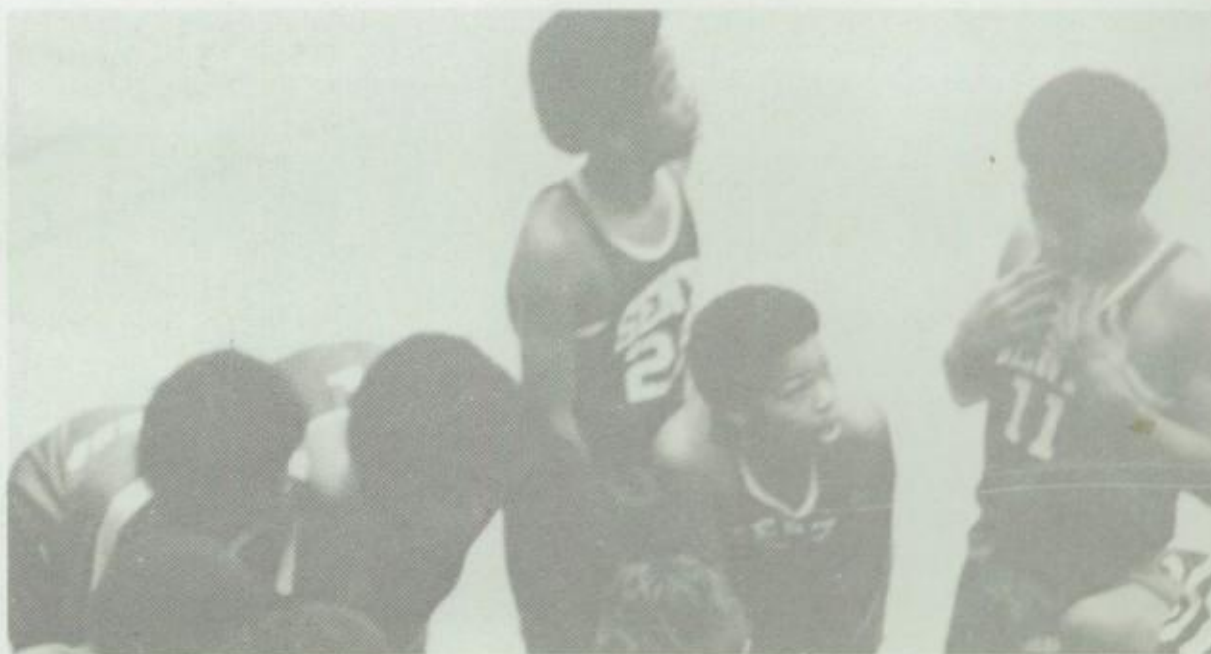

But hard work, good spirits, and team work enabled them to beat good teams. All of these obstacles were overcome by a group of courageous freshmen. A record of 3 wins and 11 losses gave them a strong 5th place in Bay League.

David has jumping strength.

David Johnson, 6 foot 4 inch co-captain of the 1978 Varsity Basketball Team achieved many honors. In the El Segundo Tournament, he was voted MVP, in addition to making the All-Tournament Team in the Inglewood Christmas Tournament. He also made the first team for Bay League and All South Bay Area.

Johnson's coach, Vince Combs, described him as an outstanding shooter and team leader. He feels that he should do well in college. Combs further describes him as another outstanding player on the list of fine Inglewood High School athletes.

Johnson has played basketball since the age of 7 when his father took him to the park to teach him how to play. He played basketball at Crozier Junior High and in park leagues.

In the future, colleges considered by Johnson are the University of Portland, Cal Berkley, or San Francisco State where he plans to major in business.

Here at IHS, he enjoyed his senior year the most and his favorite teachers were Miss Higgins and Mr. Nollan. He advises young athletes, "Don't mess up your grades."

Johnson has four sisters and two brothers. However, he is the only athlete in the family.

GENTLE JOCKS HOOP IT!

Led by High School All-American and all C.I.F. guard, Sonia Lykes, and All-League forward Cynthia Hatter, the lady Sents have been ranked in the top ten in C.I.F. all year. They won the Consolation Championship at the Bishop Montgomery Tournament and also upset defending Bay League Champion, Mira Costa, in the pre-season. The Sents then swept through the first round of the Pioneer league undefeated. Sonia Lykes was named to the All-Tournament Team at Bishop Montgomery and Cynthia Hatter was named to the All-Tournament Team at Beverly Hills where IHS got to the quarter finals before losing to eventual champion, Thousand Oaks.

Also returning this year to the Sents from last year's C.I.F. play-off team were seniors Angie Cooper and Rhonda DeCoud and sophomores Jackie Owens and Benita Dixon. Other varsity players included senior Juliet Ingram, juniors Karen Lock and Joan Davis, and sophomores Denise Diggs from last year's J.V. team and outstanding newcomer Chantay Williams, a sophomore, and Dawn Morrow, a freshman.

HOLD IT DOWN, LADIES!

If the purpose of a J.V. team was to prepare a person for Varsity, then Inglewood's Women's Basketball Program had two varsity teams, a varsity "A" team and a varsity "B" team. In a span of just three months (one month of practice and pre-season games, and two months of league games) the J.V.'S had progressed at an amazing rate. The potential of the team was seen at the first practice, so their achievements to date were expected. The virtues of hustle, desire, and love of the game were among the accomplishments of Captains Sharon Benton, Dawn Morrow, and the rest of the team.

Seniors Keith Dixon and Martin Sharp won the League Championship at the 178 and 194 pound weight classes and represented IHS at the C.I.F. prelims. Darrell Graham, Charles Hill, and Garvin Glass each won third place in League Finals. This year's teams had a lot of underclassmen on them; the future looks bright for Sentinel Wrestling.

The strongest track in several years at IHS was shown by the 1978 varsity team. The Sents had the league's fastest sprint combo in seniors Michael Morton and Emery Sellers, four fast quarter men in Kevin McCullough, Tony King, Reggie Ducree, and Mark Quick, and a strong field event team built around Adrian Jones, Mark Robbins, Brian Stanton, and Reinaldo Roig. Added depth in distance races and several young pole vaulters made this team a potential league champion.

IHS started the season off right by winning the 440 Relay, taking second in Long Jump, and third in the Mile Relay at the Lynwood Relays.

THEY CAN DIG IT

Confidence and pride were the two main standouts from the 1978 Volleyball Team. Coach Popko felt that when volleyball catches on at Inglewood, it will be unstoppable. This years team lacked some experience, but that didn't really show up in their play.

Known throughout the Ocean League were Ted Brintz and Jess White. All-League setter Ted Brintz was a very aggressive defensive player and had great setting technique. Jess White who was also All-League ran the offense with his powerful blocking and hitting strength.

The coming years of volleyball at IHS are looking very good. Coach Popko said, "If you do your best, most likely you will win. But doing your best is your main goal in life."

THE SENTS SLIDE

The 1978 baseball season was a rebuilding year for the Sents. After losing several top ball players from the year before, the Sents regrouped around their two senior captains, Jack Estrada and Reggie Wyatt. Jack did an outstanding job hitting and fielding for the Sents, while Reggie was the top pitching ace.

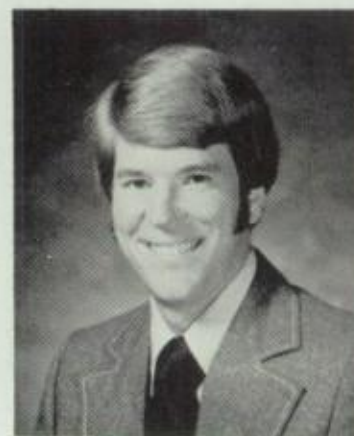

Junior Tony Covington began where he left off his sophomore year by providing added leadership and covering the hot spot at shortstop. Two other juniors, Bobby Kimble and Glen Harper, provided strength in the line-up with their hitting.

Tony Horton helped the pitching situation out by throwing his hard fastballs. However, the biggest surprise of the season was the freshman, hard throwing ace Chris Diaz.

DRILL TEAM MARCHES HOME!

Inglewood High School's Drill Team consisted of 69 talented young ladies. Every morning during football season they came to school at 7:30, working hard to make half-time shows a success. The Drill Team endeavored many activities, rallies, special, night events and games. To get on Drill Team every girl was judged by a panel of judges. They had to do a military and dance routine. If they scored a certain number of points, they were placed on the team. One of the responsibility was to buy their own uniform.

ANNUAL ALLITERATES

Photographer White demonstrates.

Pyramid of strength.

The yearbook staff was a group of hard working, creative, and intelligent students. Training for the makings of the 1978 yearbook began in the summer with three students and the sponsor attending a yearbook workshop camp at U.C. Irvine

Being on the yearbook staff took hard work and patience. The yearbook staff took pictures at all events, did lay-outs, write-ups, proof-read, sold yearbooks, and met deadlines. They also got ads to help support the yearbook. This is why to get on the yearbook staff a student must have a "B" average and be interviewed before getting the final "ok".

AND THE BAND MARCHES ON...

This past year the IHS band was lucky to have Mr. Conrad Huthchinson III, from Arizona as it's director. New uniforms were ordered, although they didn't arrive until the end of the school year.

The band continued its traditions of performing at football and basketball games. They also performed at rallies and concerts. Participation in the annual IHS Night of Music was another highlight.

Band members were seen practicing every morning, Monday through Friday at 7:15 during football season. Practice for the rest of the year began at 7:30 and continued during first period.

Drum major, Matilda Bernardi, junior, led the band. A special added attraction this year was the "chorus line" of majorettes and banner carriers.

CSF ACTIVATES

The California Scholarship Federation (C.S.F.) is open each semester to students with two 'A's' and one 'B' on their semester report card in academic classes and another in an academic or elective class. The purpose of C.S.F. is to recognize and promote academic achievement.

Also, members participate in a variety of school service and fun activities. This year C.S.F. members visited U.C.L.A. and U.S.C. helped with school service, football games, fund raising, ring sale, and a valentine ring sale.

EVERYBODY OUT!

Spirit and enthusiasm was spread by the 1977-78 Pep Squad under the direction of Ms. Joyce Nakamoto. Members of the Pep Squad were present at every competitive event that IHS participated in. Playing a major role in every pep rally was an activity that kept the Pep Squad busy practicing long hours. In preparation for the school year, all squads went to camp in La Jolla and Malibu during July and August.

RELATIVES

RELATIVES LEAD THE "WORLD"

Because of the students and adults who took time to become involved, I feel that Student Council has had a very successful year. We have had many enjoyable activities which included the Back-to-School Dance, Homecoming festivities, Sentinel-T shirt sales, Christmas week activities, and a fund raising contest for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, which Inglewood High School won. Besides being profitable, these activities gave students a chance to enjoy themselves and become involved. I feel that this year's spirited Student Council has worked hard for Inglewood High School. Thanks to the students, parents, faculty, and administrators who worked with us. This year was good for all.

A fantastic car wash was the first item on the '77-'78 calendar for the Junior Class. Marc Johnson, Junior Class President was also pleased with the dance show for which there was a large turn out, and also a large profit for their treasury. Mr. Thomas, our very own principal, "D-JD" the Christmas Dance which was a big success.

The Christmas season was also high-lighted by a Missel-toe sale on the days preceeding the holidays. There was much of it hung around campus.

Naturally, the largest event of the year was the Prom held at the Ambassador Hotel in Downtown Los Angeles.

Progress would be the only word to use for the Senior Class this year. So much was acomplished in so little time. Dances, car-washes, fashion shows, were only a few accomplishments.

SOPHOMORES MOVE WORLD

The mighty sophomore class of '80 was off to a good start this year, having the continued support of the students. They had many activities this year: The Halloween Dance and the Reese Peanut butter cup sale at the start of the year. Then in February, they had a Dating Game Show. These were their main activities, and there were many, many more and lots of fun. Being that the sophomores were pretty spirited, they won the spirit stick for four weeks in a row. Their wonderful advisors were Ms. Jan Faison and Ms. Linda Tubazio, who were behind them 100%.

The fantastic class of '81 was off to a good start this year too. They had a car wash which brought in a lot of money. At the beginning of the year they picked their class colors which are royal blue, baby blue, and white. Their terrific advisers Mrs. Martha Peoples and Ms. Margaret Morgan were behind them through thick and thin.

PARENTS

GRANDPARENTS LEGISLATE . . .

Each year is a very special year for each of us. What we do, what we learn, the friendships we enjoy, the accomplishments we realize will be with us for a lifetime.

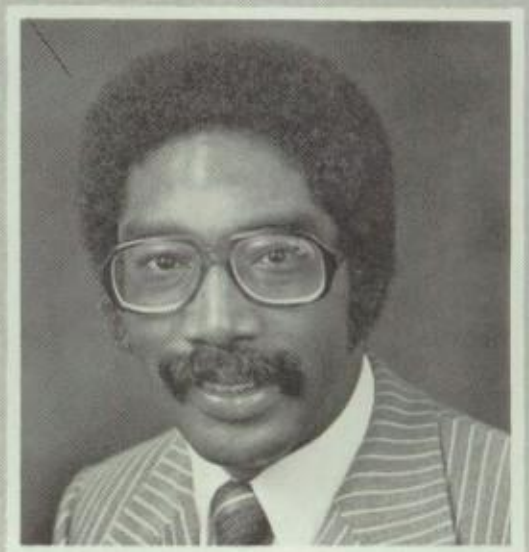

As you look back over your high school year 1977-78 let it be with a feeling of satisfaction that you have grown as an individual and are better prepared to meet the future successfully."

Grandparents? Yes, in a sense they were. These were the important family members who, together with the parents, faculty, made the school year possible. Without their hard work and assistance, very little would have been accomplished in 1977-78!

OPPORTUNITY CLASS

"The opportunity class is a special class constructed to accommodate 9th & 10th grade students who have been habitually absent or truant and/or are behavior problems.

The class size is limited to 15 students which enables the teacher to work individually with each student. Each student has an individualized work program whereby the student proceeds at his/her own rate with a different subject from other student each period.

The class is set up on a Contract System in which a student is awarded X-amount of points for each assignment satisfactorily completed.

The subjects taught include English, basic science, math, reading, western civilization, area studies and state requirement.

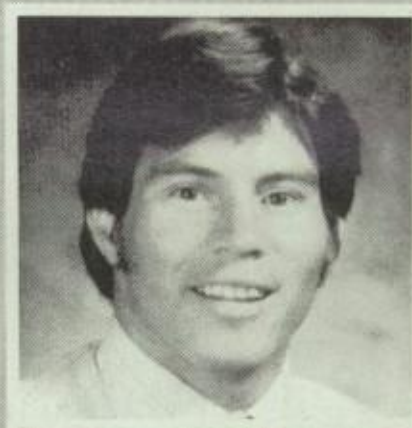

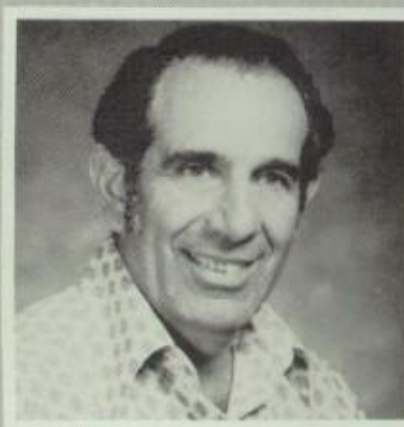

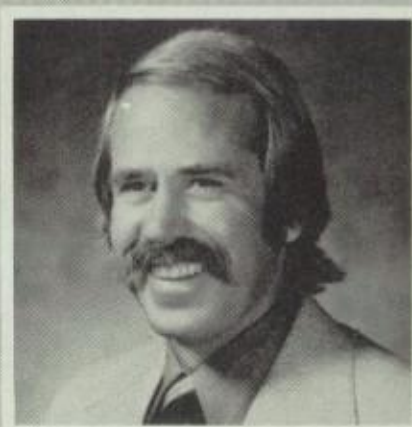

The student behavior and attendance record is maintained by the teacher; frequent parent contracts are initiated by the teacher.

The student is referred to the opportunity class by the grade level counselor. After at least 10 weeks of observation and evaluation, the student could be recommended back to the regular classroom by the opportunity teacher."

PARENTAL GUIDANCE WORKS AT INGLEWORLD

Our parents here at Ingleworld did many different things. Among these things were teaching, cleaning, cooking, and supervising.

But, the most influential thing we received from our parents was their guidance.

Here Mr. Benezra's class learns how to translate the verb to rain into Spanish.

THAT FANTASTIC YEAR

As the year ended, I looked back on how wonderful it was. Every-day was filled with many exciting things and events. This 1977-78 year has been the best of all years that I have attended at I.H.S.

Thanks to you I can say: This has been "That Fantastic Year".

Take California... for instance

The best way to serve local real estate is to be there. That's why our California offices and agencies are staffed with people who have local know-how.

And that's how Chicago Title has grown all over California by staffing our offices and agencies with people who have California know-how—who understand their local markets and who are backed by a dependable knowledgeable and professional title insurance company. Plus, because Chicago Title is one of the largest title insurance companies in the country, we provide not only California coverage but title service on a national basis. We have 124 offices and over 1,300 agents in 45 states. We're the national title insurance company with California know-how.
